The English Editorial Presents:

'A NEW WAVE'

Shy and quiet she was,
Scared of people's thoughts,
She knew she had to go far,
But her fear kept her apart.

But one day she will rise,
Like a new wave,
Who will kill all the superstitions alive,
And bury them deep under the cave.

And that day has come,
Where she is no less than anyone,
For she can fly to the moon,
Or become the leader and rule.

Some morning, I arise
Burning within me,
A new wave of inspiration
Be it sports or academics
The waves just let me surf in

If I feel low, the waves just sweep in to take me higher

But not everyday you find a new wave
So just go with the low tide
For you don't know when The tables might turnover

As we enter our life – a new path
We know it harder than doing art
A lot of decisions we make
And new resolutions we take

In this part we should change
Should it be bad or good?
You decide it's your choice

We face obstacles in our path
Along with problems in our math
We must become better as we grow
And bad habits we must throw

Washing away the grief I held,
All of the past, into time it will melt
A wave smashing down, trying to say,
Driving all the darkness far away.

Being part of a fresh start,
Building things that can't break apart.
A dream starring a bright star,
With my heart I will take it far.

Buried with time and tide,
Slowly rising out of its hide,
Willing for a place where there is no sand,
And the time when no one's around.

Yielding hope and sacrifices too
Soothing but bold in the majestic blue,
A wave is always what we need,
To be loud and to be free.

A new path: resolution or sensation?

A new wave can come in any field

A new wave can be anything

From Pél  to Messi,

From Tendulkar to Kohli,

From Washington to Gandhi

From Jackson to Bruno Mars

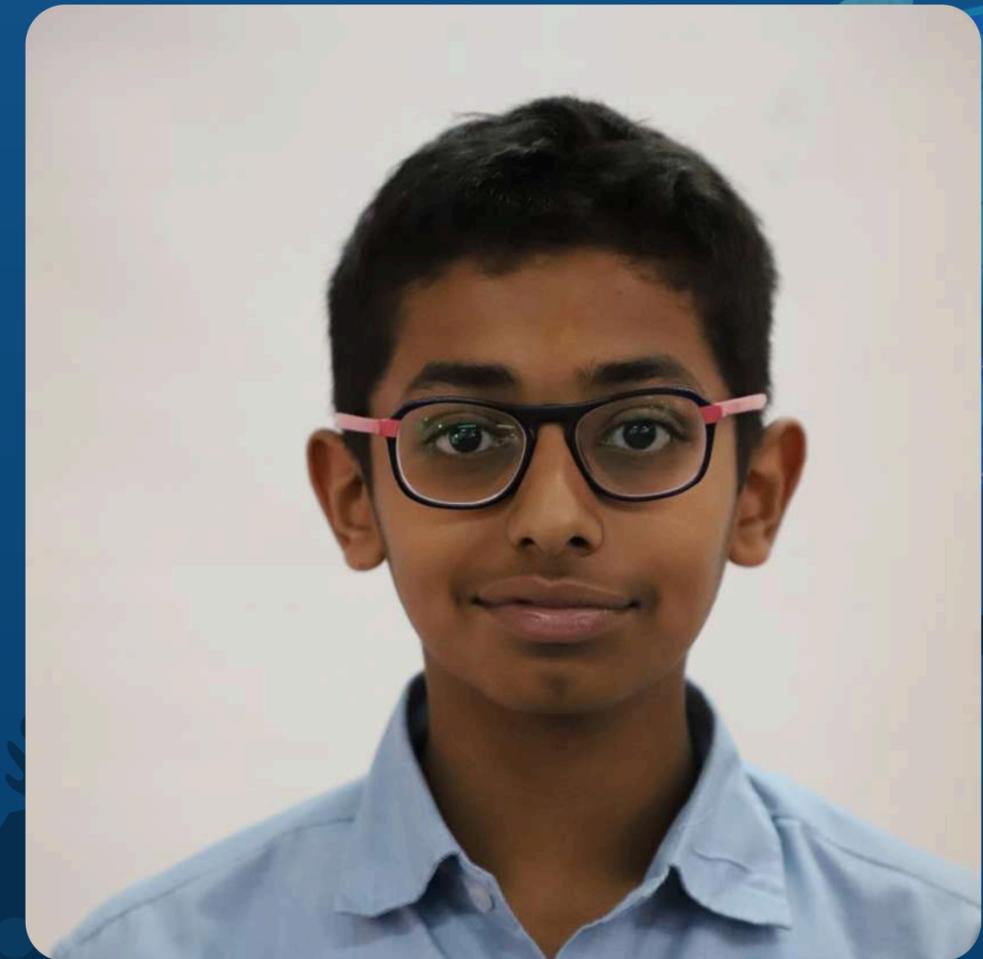

From past to present to future

A new wave can be anything

A change or a beginning

Or a start from a new leaf

A new wave can be anything

The new wave comes near
All I could do is just hear
It comes splashing the water
The good deeds are all that matter
Taking away my bad deeds
And giving me all my needs
It gave me the beautiful star
And waving, it went away

There was a wave, putting you down.
Then, suddenly a new wave comes,
Which puts you up.
But at any point of time, you should never give up.
The magical wave will always be urging you
To let the wave in your heart be 'the new wave'.
To remind yourself about the situation
And face it to achieve success and your goal.

A new wave comes and Washes away the bad old waves
It is where you create
Your foundation

A new wave comes
With loads and loads of opportunities
You get to shine and rise
It is where you start

A new wave is when there is a fresh start
You can enjoy this like you enjoy a piece of tart
All your struggles will be washed Only so that you can be launched

With every passing minute you are becoming stronger
Which one day will make you a leader
You will win everyone's hearts
And your aim will be perfect with or without the darts

The new wave is a new opportunity,
All for new challenges coming up,
It is all about how we face them
It is all about how we welcome them,
It is all on us, whether we fight or fly
It is all about us as students handling new concepts

The new wave is a new path
It stands for the path we choose,
It stands for drastic challenges faced by us
It is all on us which is the right path
It lies in the determination towards our goals
It is all on my life.

satisfaction

Flying across the world
New words told
Far beyond the horizon
Comes a new sensation

The far advanced technology
And the whole textbook for

Sleeping in class every day,
Being a slave of my own brain, None, appreciating me for any of the days,
Standing out alone as a membrane.
Then comes a new wave:

Waking up from my bed,
With a new enthusiasm to rise,
Wearing a shirt coloured red,
With a new venture full of spice.
Let us start the day with new sights;

Answering each question with a soul alive,
And not letting the “vibes” control my life.

Standing out brave as a leading light,
Being the one that everyone likes.

This new journey never stops,
And this new wave flows a lot!

A new wave
Here calling out your name
Splashes on every field
Making you the finest yield

Like the woodpecker on the tree bark
Now is the time you carve your mark
You, the blossomed change
All the future moments, in a different range

A stunning persona you create You'll soon be coronated
You bounce back from every fall
Shining bright with the royal fall

A new wave that came through the sea Washed away all the things I don't need

Flowing with the serene blue water
And beginning a new chapter

All the doors have been waiting
Now there is something I can bring Open up and let the light shine through.

Chance that these doors are one of the few

All the hurdles that come my way
With the wave, they were swept away
That wave was a new wave
In which all my mistakes were washed away

Every morning upon waking up
I see the sun rise.
It is a beautiful scene
But it also reminds me that,
It's a new wave

A new wave to correct mistakes,
A new wave to enjoy life,
A new wave to improve,
A new wave to be the best

Kohli the king of cricket
The G.O.A.T of the generation
The waves always rising and shining
Always roars like a brave lion

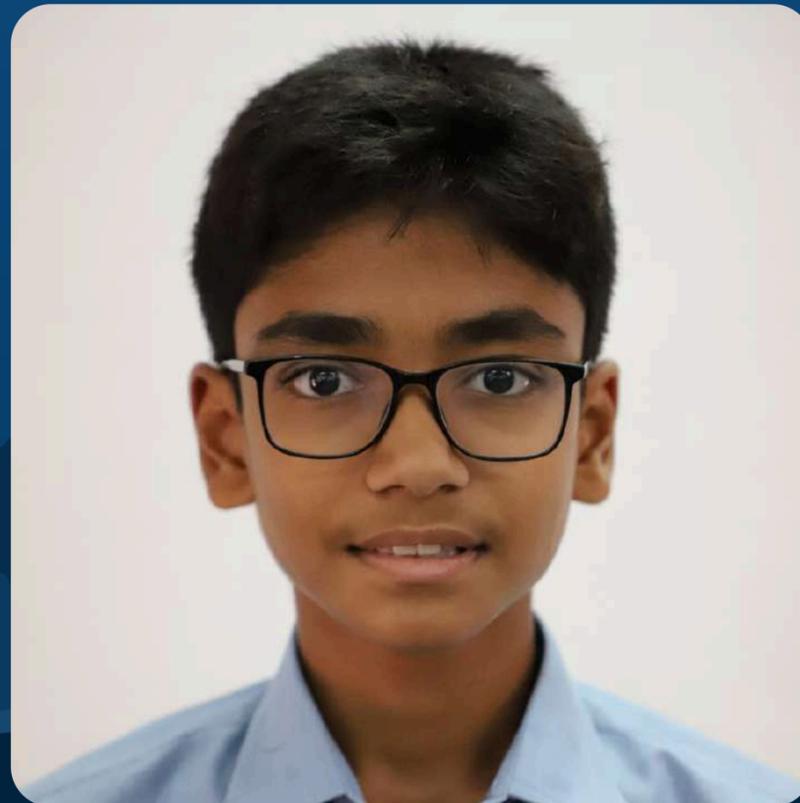

He's unstoppable, invincible
The legend respected by the universe
Fast like a cheetah
The new wave of the world

A new wave came through the sea,
And unlocked my thoughts using a key.
That new wave is fast and furious,
And is searching things curiously.

It's finding its way,
And will soon lay day by day,
In a place where no one has found
But soon there will be a crowd around.

The urge of the rushing wave
Ready to be surfed by the wave Can't predict what it will give The never - ending opportunities to live

Washing away all the negativity
Giving new chances to build creativity Standing tall with all my might
I am ready for this great fight

As the new waves have arrived
Our lives were filled with pride
But it is just the beginning
But it feels like a long ride
It will go so fast
That we won't even know when it ended
Just like the waves, it will just be a thought
Which will always be remembered
The starting will be so weird
And our mind will be full of thoughts and fear
But as the time passes
We will again be happy
And our minds will become clear
I hope this wave keeps on travelling
And that it never meets its end

In the sea far beyond
On the brink of the horizon
A new wave formed,
A new destiny forged.

It travels far and wide
And goes with air
Till it reaches the shore
And rolls on the sand.

is formed.

The sun rises over the horizon with it, emerging a new dawn.
The desolation defeated and done,
Life is coming back reborn.
A new wave floods everywhere
Because change has taken over
The past and old beware
For your time is over.

The frost and snow melt away,
Warmth nourishing the land once forsaken
Life led us to a new wave
Untouched and waiting.
No one knows what is in store
For it is time to venture into the unknown,
The future better be ready for more
As it is our time to be known.

Till the horizons reach
Where not a soul could breach,
Sitting on the sandy beach
Was a little boy wanting to doze.

The sea was drawing dangerously close,
The little boy wanted a pose
When a fine wave came ashore,
That's what the boy loved to the core.

There was a feel of great delight,
Which gave the boy a sense of might Which drove him to reach for greater

A hush before the ocean's will,
A flicker in the static scene,

It rises where the wild things go
Hair dyed defiance, eyes gleam
It walks straight out of someone's

The voice of kids who won't behave
They dance inside the mighty new wave

A new wave struck my life
While I was going on my bike
It gave me an opportunity
To serve in the Indian Army

I was excited and happy
Ready to tear apart my enemy
When the wave struck my life
It lead me to a patriotic ride

Every now and then passes a new wave, Everything counts from a revolution to a blip.

People who contribute are remembered by history

So don't wait and create a wave.

Time doesn't wait for the unprepared,
Suit up and jump into the wave,
Jump in and make history,
So don't wait and create a wave.

A new wave,
And this time I will save.
Save not thy,
But I.

This new wave won't break through,
Not this time, knowing what to do.
I will be brave,
Brave enough,
For this new wave.

As the new wave breaks out
I get the thought of a doubt
As the new opportunities rise
I start thinking twice

As the new wave starts to form
I stand there as strong as a storm
Yet I wait every single moment
For what is yet to come

It was a new school
With everyone so cool
Made me so bright
As bright as the light
Seeing the class
Made my brain blast
Chairs are so cozy
Which made me lazy

For me, a new wave is the new school
Maybe for you, a new wave is the new pool

A new wave has begun
A wave of new thoughts, new ideas,
New mindsets, new freedoms
And even some old things renewed

A wave of new kindness,
New unity and new empathy found
These good things outnumber
The bad things that have also come
